

FUTURE OF WORLD DEPENDS ON THIS COUNTRY'S POLICY

So Asserts Brooks Emeny In World Court Talk To Rotary Club.

INTERNATIONALISM CAN SAVE EUROPE

Pleads For Aroused Public
Opinion To Check Selfish Nationalism.

"The future of Europe and of the world depends upon the policy of the United States. We must arouse public opinion to develop the spirit of an enlightened internationalism, for it is the only thing which can put Europe on its feet."

In this manner Brooks Emeny, student of international law, summed up a masterly address on "The World Court" at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the Rotary club of which his father, F. J. Emeny, is president.

"We learned nothing from the World war and today we are heading toward a condition which will lead to another world war and from which this country cannot escape. The future of the world depends upon the United States," said Mr. Emeny, as he appealed for the creation of public opinion that will bring an end to insane nationalism of a selfish character which is causing all the trouble in Europe today. "We must work for an enlightened internationalism to improve conditions."

This nation has mixed politics with international affairs too much, he said, and he asserted that had it not been for the injection of politics the United States today would be a member of the league of nations.

Nationalism Responsible
Selfish nationalism is causing all the trouble in Europe today as before the war, he continued, declaring that the Monroe Doctrine was a direct checkmate to the spread of the nationalism of Europe to South American countries.

The speaker reviewed the causes that led up to the World war and other foreign wars in which the United States played an unselfish part. He traced conditions to the peace conference, where he said our feeling of internationalism taught Europe a lesson she never knew before.

Today nationalism is asserting itself in the small as well as the large nations of Europe and he declared there are two instruments which will lead Europe out of these chaotic conditions—the league of nations and the world court. If this country had loaned the amount of money spent in relieving the suffering in foreign countries, Europe would have no suffering today, he asserted.

The league of nations he painted as a great educational secretariat. The codification of international laws will give internationalism greater stability; that is what we must work for through the world court, he said.

Mr. Emeny declared that the United States is trying to dictate to non-cooperate with Europe and in her misery Europe cannot stand to be dictated to or be observed, and we are spending too much time observing the conditions of Europe.

The speaker was presented by Ray F. Carter, chairman of the day, and he was given a hearty reception at the close of his address. D. E. Mather will be in charge of the program next Tuesday.

JAIL TWO MEN AS RECKLESS DRIVERS

Arrest Follows Crash In Which a New Touring Car Is Wrecked.

Charged with reckless driving and intoxication, Loy Crawford and W. V. McDonald of Massillon, employees of the State hospital there, are in city jail as the result of an automobile accident at 10 p. m. Tuesday just east of the Salem City hospital.

Crawford, who was driving, ran into and completely wrecked a new touring car driven by Percy Paxson of Salem. The two men were coming east at a fast rate of speed, the car swerving from side to side of the road. Apparently unable to keep the car in the road the men speeded up and as they neared the hospital Paxson's machine was hit.

After the accident Paxson said he made a great effort to avoid being hit by the oncoming car but as it was coming too fast he could not turn out in time.

Officers Bryn and Kirkbride answered a phone call from a resident near the scene and placed McDonald and Crawford under arrest. Their trial is scheduled for Wednesday afternoon. At that time Paxson will appear with witnesses who saw the accident.

Harding Catching Own In Alaska To Have Fish Dinner

President Doesn't Consider
Minnesota Vote Slap
At Administration.

Seward, Alaska, July 18.—Back on the transport Henderson from his interior trip, President Harding planned to rest and may do some fishing during the day, the opportunity being afforded by the day's enforced lay-over in Seward in order to allow Secretary Hoover to catch up from Anchorage where he has been listening to Alaska's grievances concerning departmental administration.

The members of the presidential party are pulling for the fishing trip, jocularly suggesting that it was his only hope of getting a fish dinner. Alaska is probably the greatest fish and game territory extant, yet in his (Continued on fifth page.)

SPORTSMEN MEET AT COUNTRY CLUB

Hundreds Gather For Field
Day Events Of County
Game Association.

Under clear skies the fifth annual field meet of the Columbiana County Fish and Game association opened at 10 a. m. Wednesday at the Salem Country club with several hundred people on the ground at that time. This number was increased to over 1,000 in the afternoon.

Members of the association were present from East Liverpool, Lisbon, Leetonia, East Palestine, Columbiana, Wellsville and visitors came from Pittsburgh, Alliance, Canton, Youngstown, Cleveland and Wisconsin. Due to the large number of dogs in the first event the coon hunt was not started until after 10 o'clock, one hour behind schedule.

Twenty dogs entered the three preliminaries of the event, eight dogs in the first two and seven in the last one. At noon the semi-finals were being run and it was impossible to finish until after the noon banquet.

The visit to the Buckeye Silver Fox farm to view the 20 silver foxes on exhibition there was made immediately after the banquet. F. S. Dannenberg, the owner, who last night arrived with three more foxes from Wisconsin, was the host and showed the large crowd his $25,000 pen of foxes.

Virgil Richard, famous trick rifle shot of Pittsburgh, arrived before noon and delighted a large audience when he began practicing on the other side of the lake. His exhibition of fancy shooting took place late in the afternoon.

The banquet at noon was presided over by Atty. H. L. McCarthy, of Salem, who introduced Judge Lodge Riddle, Lisbon, the principal speaker; F. S. Dannenberg of Salem; Peter Herrings, famous breeder of foxes, of Chippewa, Wis.; H. R. Hamilton, Lisbon, chairman of the field day committee, and John L. King, Salem, chairman of the day.

The committee after the late start decided to run the eleven events after the noon hunt during the afternoon. The first events immediately after the banquet were the fly casting events, under the direction of N. L. Reich, Salem.

Defects Of Children Noted In Examination Of 16 At Free Clinic

Of 16 children entered at the public baby clinic Tuesday afternoon at the Community house, the most serious defect discovered was one case of suspected blindness of a three-week-old infant.

Another interesting case was that of a mother who is suffering some displacement of the spinal cord causing her to be deformed. Steps will be taken to see that she is given the proper treatment. Her baby is seven months old.

The principal ailments of the majority of those children examined were hernia, tonsils or adenoid defects. Doctors Hobson and Miles presided at this clinic. They were ably assisted by Miss Hazel Levin, Red Cross nurse; Miss Nellie Linn, public school nurse, and Mrs. Paul Mead.

PAVING OF THREE STREETS ASSURED BY CITY COUNCIL

Sharp, Washington, Lincoln
Legislation Passed
Tuesday Night.

MAY PAVE LINCOLN AVENUE THIS YEAR

Work On Others May Not Be Started Until Spring;
Pay Raise Given.

Although the service department probably will be unable to start work before early spring, residents of Sharp st., Washington st. and Lincoln ave. were assured that the streets will be paved as soon as possible by city council Tuesday night when that body passed the necessary legislation for the work.

The one exception will be Lincoln ave. Service Director J. B. Bristol said as he is trying to get things ready so the street can be paved by late fall. The reason for the delay in the improvements is because it will be at least 90 days before bonds can be sold covering the cost of the projects.

Sharp st. will be paved from Roosevelt ave. to Prospect st. with brick on a five inch concrete base and will be 23 feet wide. Washington st. will be covered by a two inch covering of asphaltic concrete on a five inch concrete foundation and will be 26 feet wide. This new paving will extend from McKinley to Franklin ave.

It was found that all that was needed with the Lincoln ave ordinance to go ahead with the selling of bonds for the project was to advertise the ordinance. Fire Chief Vincent A. Malloy, Chief of Police T. W. Thompson, the firemen and policemen were officially awarded their promised increase of $5 a month in pay when council passed the ordinance providing for the increase.

The increase will become effective the last day in August.

C. H. Coburn, presenting the Geo. H. Bowman Co., made a verbal request for permission to cross Broadway with a spur of the Pennsylvania railroad from the end of the Bliss Co. spur to the Bowman plant directly across the street.

Mr. Coburn explained that the company does an enormous importing business and that it plans to distribute all their wares from the Salem plant. Instead of the Cleveland plant as has formerly been done because of the prohibitive prices of trucking these goods.

Council referred the matter to the streets, alleys and sidewalks committee for consideration.

Friends Gather At Johnson Statue To Honor His Memory

Cleveland, July 18.—Former friends, who still hold in reverence the memory of Tom L. Johnson, long a great figure in the civic life of the community, gathered before his statue in public square today to pay him homage on this, the sixty-ninth anniversary of his birth.

Johnson served two terms in congress, four terms as mayor and was once the Democratic candidate for governor of Ohio, being defeated by Myron T. Herrick. He was credited with "discovering" John H. Clarke, former justice of the supreme court, ex-Senator Alton Pomeroy, who received his backing for governor in 1908 against Jordon Harmon and Newton D. Baker, former mayor and secretary of war.

Extending Search Right Can't Solve Ship Liquor Issue

Foreign Powers Refuse To Reply To Suggestion;
Up To Congress.

Washington, July 18.—Administration officials admitted today that they have virtually given up all hope of solving the ship liquor and rum running problems by means of extension of the American right of search and seizure out to 12 miles at sea.

More than three weeks have passed since the proposal originally was made to the allied capitals by Secretary of State Hughes, but as yet no replies have been received.

Led by Great Britain, the maritime powers are said to be "manifestly unfavorable" to an extension of the three-mile limit, regardless of the reasons therefor. Cognizant of this (Continued on sixth page.)

BRIDE MURDERED IN HER BEDROOM

Father Finds Nude Body On Bed; Husband's Legs
Severed By Train.

Pittsburg, July 18.—A bloody finger print found on a mantle cover was the main clue upon which detectives were working this afternoon to solve the mysterious slaying of Mrs. Julia Coyne, 18, a girl bride of five months, at her home in Port Perry, near Bradock, this county.

The woman, noted for her beauty in the Bradock region, was found dead in bed this morning at her home by her father, John Conroy. The bedroom of the three-room cottage was a scene of confusion. The woman lay nude upon her bed, shot through the head. Her clothing had been removed from her body and pushed under a dresser.

Detectives believed her clothing had been removed after she was dead, and life had been extinct 12 hours, according to a coroner's jury deputy.

Detectives searching the house found a revolver in a bolster slip under the head of the girl. One chamber was empty, the officers said. It was identified as belonging to Patrick Coyne, 36, husband of the woman. In a pocket in Coyne's coat, hanging in a cupboard, detectives found four loaded and two empty shells of the same calibre as the revolver. Two other empty shells were found in the fire grate.

The husband, with both legs cut off last night by a freight train, lies close to death in a Hillsboro hospital. County Detective Michael Verosky is at the hospital to question the husband. Other detectives are investigating his accident.

A single bullet killed the woman, a coroner's deputy said. Around her arm was a string of rosary beads. Detectives take the view that she died pleading and praying that her life be spared.

Whitfield, Officer's Slayer, Wants Trial In Another County

Cleveland, July 18.—Whether the Ohio statute making the killing of a policeman in the discharge of his duty murder in the first degree is constitutional and whether feeling in Cuyahoga county is such that John L. Whitfield, alleged slayer of Patrolman Dennis Griffin, cannot get a fair trial here, will be decided by Judge George Baer in common pleas court here today, when two motions by defense counsel are argued.

Should either claim of the defense be viewed with favor by the court, it will probably delay the beginning of Whitfield's trial, scheduled for next Monday.

Traction Car Hits Wagon, Man Dies

Staubenville, July 18.—Stanley Kurinski, 36, gardener, was almost instantly killed last night when his produce wagon was struck by a traction car here. The car was traveling down a steep incline when Kurinski drove his wagon onto the tracks.

The horse was badly injured and the wagon smashed. The car left the track and many persons had a narrow escape from being injured.

Coast-to-Coast Trip Postponed By Airman

Garden City, L. I., N. Y., July 18.—With his airplane under repair at the Curtiss plant here, Lieut. Russell E. Maughan, army aviator, today again postponed his attempted coast-to-coast flight between daylight and dark.

A leak which developed in the gas line of the plane will require a complete re-tuning of the powerful Curtiss motor used in the ship and may result in an other week's delay before the trip.

The horse was badly injured and the wagon smashed. The car left the track and many persons had a narrow escape from being injured.

Harvest Festival Voted Down

There will be no Homecoming Harvest Festival here this fall according to a decision reached Tuesday by a committee from the Retail Merchants Board of the Chamber of Commerce, but that organization stands ready to co-operate with the Salem Community Service association in presenting a historical pageant at the time the Homecoming is usually held.

A majority of the business men opposed holding the Homecoming in any form, while a few declared themselves in favor of the annual event.

Nearly all were opposed to allowing the carnival features which have marred the Homecoming festivals of past years.

ELKS AND EAGLES IN BENEFIT GAME

Teams Will Meet July 28
For Benefit Of lay-ground Fund.

Baseball fans will be given an opportunity Saturday, July 28, to see a real battle on Reilly field and also swell the playground fund for the city. On that date the Elks and Eagles teams will play the first benefit game of the season and a great game is expected.

The two teams are as evenly matched as any two that ever represented the city. Both have been fairly successful so far this season on their games with other teams.

Ray Carter of Community Service after several weeks negotiations succeeding in scheduling the game. Manager Scullion of the Elks had a game looked for that date but late Tuesday announced that he was able to arrange the game to be played later so that his team would be able to give their services here the 28th.

Manager Seelye of the Eagles said that his team is anxious to play the game and do its best for the community.

The game will be a feature also because it will decide which team can claim the semi-pro title of the city. Fans can expect a hot battle from the time the first ball is pitched.

Cherry Picker Falls. Fractures His Ankle

William Walker, 37, New Waterford, is at Salem City hospital, suffering from a fracture to his right ankle sustained Tuesday evening while picking cherries. While Mr. Walker fell from the third rung of the ladder the break is a bad one.

Stark's ambulance was called from this city to bring the injured man to the hospital, where an x-ray examination was given. Wednesday morning he was reported to be getting along well.

Woman's Aim Poor, So Burglars Get Money

SMALL CONSUMERS WOULD BENEFIT BY PROPOSED CHANGE

Three-year Schedule Filed With Council In Proposed Ordinance.

BIG POWER USERS TO BE CONSULTED

Conference Planned Before
City Accepts Voluntary Reduction.

Slightly reduced rates for electric current for light and power for its customers in the city are included in the ordinance which passed its first reading at council meeting Tuesday night, to establish and determine the rates which the Salem Lighting company may charge for current from August 19, when the present contract expires, to August 19, 1926.

The rates that the lighting company voluntarily wrote in the new contract affect the small and medium power users only and do not include manufacturers or other large users of power. Aside from rates the ordinance is the same as the one now in force.

The rate reduction is specifically this: For the first 10 kilowatt hours for metered residents and commercial users the rate is to be nine cents. In the present contract the rate is as follows: For the first 50 kilowatt hours is at the rate of 10 cents per kilowatt hour, and the second 50 at the rate of nine cents. The present rate then is a shade under ten cents for the first 100 kilowatt hours.

Other Reductions
The second change that is included in the current furnished to moderate power consumers. These rates are to be decreased one cent a block, that is the first 200 K. W. H. per month is to be at 8 cents per kilowatt hour instead of the present rate of 9 cents; the next 300 K. W. H. at 7 cents, the next 500 at 6 cents, and all over 1000 at 4 cents, a reduction in each block of one cent.

On the suggestion of Councilman P. J. Dean that council take no immediate action, Councilman L. B. Carson moved that this ordinance, which will have to have two more readings before it can be passed, be sent to the lighting committee; Chairman John Stratton, Solicitor L. B. Harris and Service Director J. B. Bristol for consideration.

The lighting committee has already conferred with officials of the Salem Lighting company and in its report Tuesday night recommended that the Manufacturers association be asked to appoint a committee to meet with the lighting committee so that any suggestions they may have will be brought out and council will be able to consider changes.

Members of council believe that because the new ordinance as it stands now does not affect the large users of power, these users will demand a reduction in their rates also. Some council members expressed their belief that the rates should be reduced more sharply to all users than the company has voluntarily consented to do.

Want Shorter Contract

Acting Manager E. F. Hauser and President James D. Andrew, of the lighting company, who were present at the meeting, stated that as the company has only recently been taken over and is under new management, it will be some time before they will be able to study local conditions and problems to see whether a decrease can be made.

Rates at present are considerably below rates in cities of the same size in surrounding territory and Mr. Hauser said that in his opinion the proposed schedule included in the ordinance is the lowest that they will be able to estimate.

Some members of council feel that three years is too long a time for the contract to run. It is believed impossible by them to foresee conditions and prices at that time and they believe the contract should continue for not more than two years.

KENST CAN'T PAY FINE, IS JAILED

Andrew Kenst, of Newgarden, rd., pleaded guilty to a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor and was fined $250 and costs when he appeared before Acting Mayor Yoder of East Palestine Tuesday afternoon.

Kenst said he was unable to pay the fine and was taken to the county jail last night.

His arrest followed a raid on his home Monday by prohibition officers who found a quantity of liquor, said to be a mixture of corn whisky and raitin jack.

Fingers Are Crushed
James Andrews of Gavers had two fingers on his right hand badly crushed when an upright in a hay ladder on a farm wagon fell and caught his hand. The physician who dressed the injury states that it will not be necessary to amputate the fingers.

France And England

NO ONE can say that France's position, as outlined by Premier Poincare in what must be regarded as a reply to Premier Baldwin's recent speech on reparations, is not the "natural" position for France to take. Another nation in France's place probably would view the case as she does. Belgium evidently is with her, for French and Belgian troops are together in the Ruhr. The spirit of revenge, almost inevitable under the circumstances, may blind France to some extent to what is the wisest course. But that is not all. Her inability to trust German professions, her conviction that Germany could pay the full amount of the debt as agreed upon at London, her fear that any leniency would but encourage Germany to resume the attack on France at some future time, her impression that a new negotiating conference would subordinate justice to France and her future safety to the early restoration of satisfactory commercial conditions in Europe—these considerations all enter powerfully into the equation.

And who can wonder? If Premier Baldwin, as he delivered his recent address, had stood where he could see traces of Prussian devastation and brutality still remaining on his own national soil, as Premier Poincare did, his own remarks might have had a different tone, for the British temperament, while cooler and more stolid than the French, is not wholly unlike it, for human nature is at the bottom of both. The wrongs of France have burned deeply into her soul, and she is determined that her hated and feared enemy shall be kept down at any cost to Europe.

Premier Baldwin's statement was logical, provided his major premise is correct, that Germany must be shown a degree of mercy or go down to utter ruin and perhaps drag all Europe with her for a time. There is more passion in Premier Poincare's statement but he too strives for coolness and logic. He does not believe that the British premier's major premise is correct and, as to that, while many positive opinions are expressed, who really knows? It is quite conceivable that Germany herself does not know what will happen to her if she is held to the letter of the London agreement. The European situation is not reassuring but it seems as if the statement of Great Britain and France might be able to find a basis for union on a policy toward Germany. They can afford to part company now scarcely more than they could have afforded that five years ago.

The Harvest Festival

SALEM will have no Homecoming Harvest Festival this year because members of the Chamber of Commerce, expressing their views through a referendum vote, have declared that last year's folly should not be repeated. Thus we see how an institution of educational and entertaining value falls into the discard because cheap entertainment overshadows its original purpose. To the carnival of last year can be traced the abandonment of this festival, an attraction that in former years brought thousands into the city and was pointed to with pride alike by citizens and visitors.

Until such cheap and unwholesome features are barred and everyone lends a hand toward the success of the project, it is well that the festival be abandoned. This does not mean that Salem shall have no community entertainment. It has been suggested that a community pageant, perhaps of historical value, be presented. That idea merits further consideration. Such a pageant would be both entertaining and instructive.

Corn Money.

Boxes of American grits are passing as currency in Georgia, Armenia, Azerbaijan and the Russia of the Caucasus. The laborers of these countries will not take a job to be paid in currency of the country, but 120,000 of them are laboring earnestly on roadbuilding, farming and sanitation for two and a half pounds of grit a week. This is said to be worth more than a bushel of rubles.

WORRY AND EATING

In a former article I spoke about the importance of clean linen, table and flatware when you were eating. Not only does the mouth water at the sight of food but the stomach actually does the same, thus making digestion that much easier.

Similarly the soiled cloth or table wear actually prevents the flow of stomach juices.

But that is not all that stops the flow. Any severe depressing emotion, the loss of friends, of money, anything that worries you has the same bad effect. You know this yourself, because you have come home some time and a good meal is spread before you, perhaps a favorite meal, and you can scarcely eat a bite.

The folks immediately ask you if you are sick. You say, why no, why "Well you're not eating anything. Has anything happened?"

Sometimes you say no, because you have no desire to worry others, but you know that something has happened.

Now should you eat under such circumstances? That's just a question. If the cause of your lack of appetite is due to some little thing that has angered you and you've lost your temper for the time being, it would be just as well to avoid eating until you cool down.

You see your anger through your brain has upset all your juices. Some of them that you need for digestion being manufactured in insufficient quantities, and others that lessen your digestive powers being manufactured in larger quantities.

However if you worry, grief, or other depressing emotion is to be of long duration you would do well to try and take hold of yourself and try eating plain but tempting things to regain your strength.

I believe it was John Temple Graves who said, "There are only two things to worry about. The things you can't help, and the things you can't help what's the use of worrying about it. If its something you can help, use your worrying time in trying to help it."

I give this for what it is worth to you.

20 YEARS AGO

(Issue of July 12, 1903)

Eighteen thousand men, one-fourth of the employees of the Pennsylvania lines west, were given a day of rest Sunday for the first time in several months.

The body of Oscar Jones was brought to this city today from Toronto, where he died at 7 o'clock last evening from injuries received during the Northeastern Ohio Volunteer Firemen's association meeting when he participated with the Salem companies in the tournament.

Oil operations in the vicinity of Columbiana are taking on renewed activities. Nearly 200 interested persons, including many from Columbiana and Leetonia, were present to witness the result when the well was shot yesterday morning.

W. S. Jameson, Denver, Colo., left this morning for Apple Creek, where he will visit a brother for a short time before returning to the west. Bana have been published at St. Paul's Catholic church for the marriage of Miss Maggie Hennessy, Leetonia, and Thomas Rossiter, foreman of the tool room at the Salem mill.

New York—Exports of wire and wire nails and pipe continue heavy. The month of July is expected to show not less than 12,000 tons of this finished products sent to foreign countries by the U. S. Steel corporation in addition to the heavy home consumption.

The work of excavating for the foundation of the new building which is being erected by the Citizens Saving Bank & Trust Co. is being pushed rapidly. The work has been somewhat hindered by the tendency of the earth to yield and cave.

The baseball game scheduled for tomorrow afternoon between the Salem and Beaver Falls, Pa., team has been cancelled owing to the death of Oscar Jones.

DANGERS OF A COLD

Salem People Will Do Well to Heed Them

Many bad cases of kidney trouble result from a cold or chill. Congested kidneys fall behind in filtering the poison-laden blood and backache, headache, dizziness and disordered kidney action follow. Don't neglect a cold. Use Doan's Kidney Pills at the first sign of kidney trouble. Follow this Salem resident's example.

H. E. Bard, 16 East Fourth st., says: "A cold settled on my kidneys that caused sharp twinges to shoot through my back. Every time I stooped, these pains got me right in the small of my back. Sometimes I felt aching and mean all over. My kidneys were weak and knowing what Doan's Kidney Pills had done for others, I bought a box. After taking Doan's, the pains in my back eased up and my kidneys worked in a normal manner again. I gladly recommend Doan's to anyone, for they are a good medicine."

LIQUOR TRAFFIC ANNOYS CAPITAL

NAVY MAY YET BE CALLED UPON TO CHECK RUM-RUNNERS
ALONG THE COASTS.

THREE-MILE LIMIT HAMFERS

Government Wants to Extend It to Twelve Miles—Washington Itself
Has Much Bootlegging and Lots of Moonshine Whisky.

Washington.—Washington is still disturbed over matters pertaining to the illicit liquor traffic. It is claimed officially that bootlegging is on the decrease, and that more quickly than most people expect the illicit traffic will not only be under control but will be wiped out. Washington, however, has a good deal of bootlegging, so to speak, in its midst, and when one realizes this fact, remembering that Washington is the capital of the country, he finds himself thinking that perhaps things are not as well in hand else where as they might be.

There are still many rum-runners off the Atlantic coast. It has been suggested that the United States navy take a hand in their capture. The trouble is that the United States navy cannot legally capture anything that is outside the three-mile limit, unless the thing captured is known to be a pirate flying the flag of no nation. Attempts are being made now by the State department to secure an agreement with other countries by which so far as rum-running is concerned the three-mile limit off the Atlantic coast can be extended to a twelve-mile limit. This extension, of course, would not allow the navy to seize any foreign vessels which kept outside the new limit, but it would give the navy twelve miles of seaway in which to capture American launches and other small craft which bring liquor in from the rum-runners outside the limit.

Much Moonshine in Washington.

It has been intimated that Washington as a city is not as dry as it might be. There is still good liquor in the old town, but apparently no one can buy it, for most of the good kind is stored in cellars of private houses, where it constitutes the remainder of the stock which was put there before prohibition went into effect. Of course, the foreign embassies still have their liquor, but this is legal liquor. It is true also that the pre-war stocks which are in the cellars of private residents, constitute legal liquor so long as the owners do not attempt to sell the stuff or to transport it elsewhere without proper federal permit.

There is a good deal of moonshine liquor at Washington. This is pure liquor, but it is "awful new." It finds its way into the possession of persons in the capital, some of whom drink it as it is, while others, much wiser, dilute it one-half before attempting to make a beverage of it. The moonshine whisky mostly comes from the mountain regions west of Washington. A good deal of it is captured while on the way to the capital, but a good deal of it also finds its way to purchasers. The price charged is enough to pay for the losses incurred when seizures are made.

Army Officer's Hard Luck.

When prohibition went into effect by an act of congress in the District of Columbia before it went into effect by federal amendment, the law gave the proprietors of clubs and of saloons the right to sell their liquors in bulk to private purchasers for private consumption. This was to prevent financial loss to the men who had acquired the liquor legally.

One story is told of the unhappy experience of an army officer who acquired a considerable quantity of liquor perfectly properly and legally when the stock of a club's supply was sold. He was ordered to France just about the time he made the purchase. He had no house of his own. A friend told him he would take the liquor and keep it in his cellar for him until the war was over, and the officer sailed away. When he started back to the United States he knew that several gallons of fine stuff was awaiting him in storage in his friend's cellar.

The army officer arrived in Washington, rather thirsty perhaps after his dry voyage back from Europe. He went straight to his friend's house, and there he learned that all his liquor had been stolen a week before, along with a supply which his friend had stored in the same cellar.

V. F. W. AUXILIARIES OF COUNTY UNITE

East Liverpool, July 18.—A county council of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars was formed here last night. Representatives of five county auxiliaries, Salem, Lisbon, Wellsville, East Palestine and East Liverpool, attended the meeting.

The meeting opened with the singing of "America" which was followed by a short program in which Fleta McMillen of Chester read a selection and Lillian Singleton of Chester and May Dimick of this city offered musical selections.

Atty. S. W. Crawford, speaker of the meeting, told of the value of the Veterans of Foreign Wars organization and outlined the possibilities that might be achieved through the formation of a county council of the Ladies Auxiliary.

A lunch was served following the program, after which dancing and cards were enjoyed.

Mystery In Murder Of Maryland Woman Is Becoming Deeper

Frederick, Md., July 13.—The mystery surrounding the killing of Mrs. Grace S. Kepner, on June 18, was deepened today when state's attorney Aaron R. Andrews announced that he would question another girl concerning her relations with the dead woman. Demands for a grand jury probe of the Kepner killing are continuing and it was reported today that if such an investigation is not ordered citizens of this city will petition Governor Ritchie to order a formal inquiry as requested by Kepner himself.

THINK GIRL AIDED CONVICTS' ESCAPE

Six Prisoners Who Escaped From Pen Saturday Still Missing.

Philadelphia, July 13.—With the whereabouts of six convicts who escaped from the Eastern State penitentiary last Saturday still a mystery, police today started a city-wide search for a young woman believed to have smuggled the pistols with which the six prisoners held off their guards while making their getaway.

Several days before the sensational break, the girl, who is described as very young, visited one of the men in his cell, according to Col. John C. Groome, newly appointed warden of the penitentiary. It was the last of a series of such visits. The possibility of funds being also passed by the young woman was pointed out by Col. Groome in discussing the affair.

These funds, city detectives here say, were raised by former pals of the convicts, who had retained their liberty only because the two prisoners refused to divulge their accomplices' names when arrested following the robbery of a bank messenger. Col. Groome is working on a report of the entire escape to be forwarded to Gov. Pinchot.

HARVESTER FIGHT RENEWED BY U. S.

Washington, July 13.—The federal government squared away today for another legal battle with the international harvester company.

Five years ago the courts held that the corporation was a combination in restraint of trade and ordered it dissolved. Attorney General Daugherty believes however that this dissolution has not been accomplished according to law and he has asked the United States district court at St. Paul, Minn., to order the corporation separated into three separate corporations, with separate stockholders and directors.

The plan of dissolution recommended by the department of justice is essentially that outlined by the federal trade commission three years ago.

Each Other Foiled

By ANTHONY REIMERT
(C. 1932, Western Newspaper Union)

IT WAS because three men had already plunged to death off the new bridge that Leach quickened his steps as he saw the prowling figure ahead of him looking down into the water.

Nobody else was on the bridge at that hour of the night—nobody but Leach and the unknown. And, after all, why should Leach take it upon himself to stop the fellow? Life was miserable enough. Why not let him seek that oblivion that he sought?

It was only an undefinable instinct that quickened Leach's footsteps as the intentions of the man in front of him began to be clear beyond a doubt. Suddenly the man threw off his coat and began to clamber out upon the girders.

At the same moment Leach grabbed him. The man began struggling violently. Leach held on like grim death.

For a minute or two the other fought with such frenzied strength that it was all Leach could do to hold him. But at last he had him subdued. He was a weakling after all, one of those anemic, undeveloped, undersized runts that haunt the slums of the cities. There was the stamp of the slum rat on the wizened features.

"Aw, what you want with me? I ain't done nothing!"

"You were just going to jump off the bridge."

"Well, supposing I was? That ain't no business of yours, is it?"

"Well, I guess it is," answered Leach. "No man has the right to make away with himself."

"No right, eh? Say, if you was up against what I am you'd feel different about it, I guess."

"Tell me your troubles."

"You can't do nothing to help me. Why, you look down and out yourself!"

Leach, "Just worry about yourself. Let's put our heads together and see if we can't hit on a better plan for you than jumping off the bridge. First thing that strikes me is, you look as if you're hungry."

"Hungry?" shouted the other. "Yes!"

"There's a lunch wagon at the end of the bridge. Suppose we go and have some coffee and an egg sandwich, and then if you want to take the leap, why I guess I won't want to stop you."

Grumbling, the would-be suicide followed Leach to the coffee wagon.

"Ya see," he explained, "I been out of work for weeks, and my wife's sick, and there's a kid, and there ain't no bread, and then my mother-in-law, who brings us food, why, she's always on at me for a wastrel, and—oh, it's hopeless, boss, that's what it is."

"You've been out of work, too," said Leach. "I haven't got a wife and a kid, but if I had it would take more than a mother-in-law to make me take that jump. Pull yourself together, man! Go home and thank the Lord you didn't jump. Where would your wife and child be if you had done it?"

"That's true," muttered the other, as he devoured his sandwich ravenously.

"There'll be plenty of work in a little while," Leach continued. "You know how things are looking up. Why, say, you were just off your head, weren't you?"

"I guess I was," mumbled the other sheepishly.

"Why, once you get work—you've got a trade, haven't you? Cabinet-maker? Why, man, you'll be earning nice wages, and then you'll begin putting a little aside against a rainy day, and in a short time you'll have a swell bank account, and maybe a car. And you'll be able to tell your mother-in-law where to go."

The other stared at him. "Say, that's one stuff, Mister," he answered. "You're dead right. No more of the morgue for mine. I'm going straight home. And I dunno how to thank you."

"Oh, that's all right," Leach answered, and he accompanied the man a little distance and watched him striding off in the distance with a hopeful stride.

He looked back whimsically at the bridge. He felt the solitary nickel that he carried in his pocket.

"Like, that's good advice I gave him," he muttered. "I'm glad I thought of it. I'll get a job myself now—better than jumping off the bridge, as I was intending."

Land for Britain's Jobless.
Plans for settling 7,000 unemployed British families a year in New South Wales and Victoria have been completed by the British government, Premier Fuller of New South Wales and Premier Lawson of Victoria announced their arrival at New York.

Unemployed government lands will be made aside for them and provided with the necessary irrigation. The colonists will be given 36 years in which to make the land pay for itself. New South Wales will take 6,000 families a year and Victoria 1,000.

The two premiers plan to proceed to Australia by way of Vancouver, after a brief visit to Washington.

Klansmen Gathering Evidence To Oust Steubenville Mayor

Steubenville, July 13.—Petitions asking for the removal of Mayor Frank A. Hawkins and Chief of Police Plaine D. Carter of this city, and evidence gathered by detectives within the past month, will be presented to Gov. Donahay for consideration early next week. Atty. Nathaniel P. Willis, of Columbus, chief counsel for the Ku Klux Klan in Ohio, stated today.

Atty. Willis declared he is in Steubenville to assemble the evidence against the city officials and to prepare the whole matter for presentation to Gov. Donahay. Between 50 and 100 affidavits alleging police immorality, police graft, officers intoxicated while on duty, protection of gambling joints, speakeasies, disorderly houses and all forms of vice, have been prepared.

Willis charges that nine murders were committed in Steubenville during the past year and in the majority of them the police made no determined effort to apprehend the murders.

Mayor Hawkins and Chief Carter are alleged to have ignored previous warnings of the Ku Klux Klan to clean up the city.

Hawkins is candidate for re-nomination but Klan officials deny that organization is attempting to play politics or embarrass him.

WHITE-MITCHELL BATTLE TONIGHT

New York, July 13.—Fistic lovers expect to see plenty of action tonight when Charley White, the Chicago lightweight, and Ritchie Mitchell, the Milwaukee boxer, clash in a scheduled 15-round bout. The winner will be next in line to battle for the lightweight crown.

In their last meeting, White, almost out on his feet, let go a desperate left hook and knocked out Ritchie.

White said today he would win in five rounds. Mitchell, who arrived here yesterday from Milwaukee, was equally confident he would put out the Chicago fighter.

Demand That China Protect Foreigners

Washington, July 13.—The United States government has agreed with all other powers that something must be done to afford protection to foreign lives and interests in China. But the question of methods still remains undetermined, it was learned officially here today.

In deciding upon measures for the protection of foreigners, extreme care is being exercised to avoid stirring up a bitter anti-foreign sentiment among the Chinese.

ANOTHER BUSINESS MAN INVOLVED IN BLACKMAIL CASE

Dayton, July 13.—A new angle in the John L. Bushnell alleged blackmailing case developed today when it was reported that federal agents were working on a phase of this case which may take the center of action to Cincinnati.

Government operatives declined to discuss this new situation, but it was learned from an authoritative source that a prominent Cincinnati business man may be involved in the case.

It has been established that on Jan. 9 a man and a woman registered at the Hotel Greenwald, New Orleans, as Mr. and Mrs. John L. Bushnell of Springfield. They left the following day according to the information received from the Louisiana city.

It has been charged that Mr. Bushnell, prominent Springfield banker, took Miss Rose Putnam from Los Angeles to New Orleans.

Miss Putnam and Don Osborne were arrested last Friday night on charges of attempting to molest Bushnell out of $100,000 in an alleged blackmail scheme.

Both Osborne and Miss Putnam, who were taken from the Montgomery county jail at Troy, deny they are guilty of any wrongdoing, but say they are victims of two men who escaped from the Shawnee hotel in Springfield when the two prisoners were arrested and who got $10,000 Mr. Bushnell is said to have paid in November, 1922.

POLICE SEARCHING CITY FOR MADMAN

Insane Slayer Shoots Auto Driver Commandeered To Aid Escape.

Chicago, July 13.—Backed by orders to "shoot to kill on sight," police today were drawing in a dragnet which they hope to snare Ambrose, believed to be a madman, killer of Colangelo Salerno and who probably fatally wounded Charles Goetz, private secretary to the president of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad.

Gilbert fired six bullets into the body of Salerno on a crowded street corner, killing him instantly. The slayer then leaped into the nearest automobile, forced to drive at the pistol point, slowed up to avoid a collision. Gilbert shot him twice. Hospital physicians say he probably will die.

The shooting of Salerno, according to police, followed violent quarreling between Salerno and Gilbert over the charge that Mrs. Salerno had left her husband for Gilbert.

Convinced the slayer is insane, police have issued orders to kill him on sight if he makes the least resistance.

HARDING CATCHING

ramblings here he has yet to be banqueting on fish and game.

Instead the Alaskans have been outdoing themselves to provide the presidential table with things from the "outside" which are luxuries to them. The Hardings have eaten more canned stuff in the past two weeks than in the previous six months.

The president, Mrs. Harding and all members of the party were glad to return to the comparative luxury of the naval transport after their trip into the interior. Traveling in Alaska, even on the government's railroad, is no pleasure jaunt despite the fact that the road boasts three Pullmans and one diner which functions occasionally.

"The Alaskan flier" averages fifteen miles an hour, which is further slowed up by extensive precautions taken for safety's sake.

President Harding learned today of the defeat of Gov. J. A. O. Preus in the Minnesota senatorial election. While he declined formal comment, he evidently was keenly disappointed.

It is understood the president, however, does not regard the victory of Magnus Johnson, Farmer-Labor candidate, as a slap at the administration, he considering the campaign there largely fought on local issues and the Minnesota Republicans chiefly responsible for their own defeat.

It was also understood that the president believes his chief concern is that it cuts the Republican senate majority making the administration's road there exceedingly hard.

"WAIT A MINUTE"

Irritates Many People

DOES your office girl sometimes "get Brown on the line" and then ask him to "wait a minute" while she calls you to talk to him?

Did you ever stop to consider that Brown may not like this very well? He may think that you are imposing on him.

Of all bad telephone habits the one most universally condemned by business men is the "wait a minute" habit. It is a habit that not only causes loss of time and business friendship, but often turns away profitable trade.

When you start a call, the courteous, business-like thing to do is to remain at your telephone and be ready to talk.

When you receive a call do as you want people to do when you call—answer promptly.

The Proper Use of the Telephone by Everyone will Make the Service of Greater Value to ALL.

EXTENDING SEARCH

attitude, officials concede that with congress alone rests the solution of the problem.

In this connection, however, some considerable opposition was voiced to the plan of Senator Sterling (Republican) of South Dakota, to introduce at the next session a measure extending the territorial jurisdiction of the United States to all waters within 12 miles of American shore.

"Such a method of gaining our point," one high spokesman for the administration declared, "would be most drastic, and might be abortive. Permanent and general extension of territorial limits is a serious thing and something that might well lead to international complications. A nation can't just extend its territorial limits; it must have a mighty good reason—one that would find justification in the eyes of other powers and that would be applied to meet a situation approaching a national emergency."

Falling to obtain the requested concession from the allies in exchange for permission to bring liquor into American waters under seal, congress can officially act by amending the existing dry laws, as interpreted by the supreme court. Government leaders, however, are expressing strong doubt as to whether congress would be willing to remove the restrictions of foreign shipping so long as the foreign powers refuse to assist the United States in curbing rum-running in vessels flying the flags of those very powers.

POSTAL FUND TOO SMALL SAYS NEW

Marion, July 18.—A "tremendous business expansion" has forced on the postoffice department "gigantic problems never before faced on so small an appropriation." Postmaster General Harry S. New declared here in an address before business men of Ohio and delegates to the annual convention of the Ohio postal conference and allied bodies.

The postmaster general asserted that congress should create a fund to provide a "postal reservoir" from which the postmaster general might draw in emergencies, such as the postoffice department now faces. He declared the present appropriation too small to maintain the present efficiency of the postal system.

Delegates to the convention set in motion plans to obtain many millions in additional appropriations for the postoffice department from the next congress.

"CUT EXPENSES," SAYS PRESIDENT

HIS LAST WORD BEFORE GOING WEST WAS INSISTENCE ON ECONOMY IN BUREAUS.

BUT OBEDIENCE ISN'T EASY

Temptation to Appropriate and Demand Large Sums Always Is Strong, and Besides the Government Machine Is Growing Daily.

By EDWARD B. CLARK
Washington.—Virtually the last word of instruction of which President Harding delivered himself before leaving Washington for his western trip was in effect a word of warning to the bureau officials of this town, that they must cut expenses and save money. The same kind of a word of warning has been uttered by every president of the United States from the very beginnings of the government. The bureaus in Washington are not spending as much money as they used to spend. It may be that the bureau chiefs are just as anxious to spend in the interest of what they consider progress as they ever were, but the World War cost the United States a huge sum of money and the government feels today that economy in expenditure is more necessary than ever it was.

Cut and prune as they will, however, the officials in the various departments have had hard work to bring down the expenses. It should be said in behalf of these officials that if they can keep the cost for the present year at the same figure they were last year, they are serving economy, because the government is growing all the time, and with its growth, the bureaus grow. Consequently it costs more money to run the enlarged machinery. The lessons of the past, however, have taught some of the government servants where they can economize and yet meet the expenses of the necessary enlargement of their field of labor.

Always Want to Spend Big Sums.
How long is the present effort at economy to last? The history of the government shows that no matter what party has been in power, the temptation to appropriate large sums of money always has been strong with the national legislators, and the temptation to demand large sums always has been strong with bureau chiefs. The desire apparently of every chief is to see his work expand in order that it can be of greater service to the people. The needs of the work, however, frequently are greater than congress seemingly is justified in "meeting with money."

Today in Washington in many places there are heard complaints that the machinery for doing needful things is crippled by the lack of money and the necessity for further saving. It is true, apparently, that congress in refusing at times to make appropriations for things for which money was expected has caused a loss to the country. This seems to be the case in the agricultural department.

There are those in Washington who say that a special commission should be appointed to give consideration to the subject of the possible saving to certain communities which additional appropriations for the work of the bureaus would insure. This admittedly would make it appear as if certain branches of the government were costing more money than they should cost. But a study of the situation quickly would prove that the saving to the people fully justified the additional expenditures.

Now that the budget system of appropriations has been installed, the government probably will save much money each year that formerly was wasted. There has been, however, so far as is known, no attempt to determine definitely just which bureaus should have more money because of their usefulness in saving money at the other end.

War the Cause of High Taxes.
If there had been no World War it is probable the present-day insistence for cutting expenses here would not be necessary. When the war broke out Uncle Sam had no chance to think of economy. All he could think of was what he had to get and how he could get it. The price of things, such as the hurry, hardly entered into the calculation of the government's service. "Deliver, and deliver quick," was the burden of the words of the day.

Taxes are terrifically high, and the advice probably is not used inadvisedly. If taxes are to come down, economy must be practiced, and the Budget system and the warning words of the President are intended of course to bring about such a saving that taxes can be reduced.

To revert, however, to something that has come before, it may be said that there is something like insistence in some of the bureaus in Washington that economy that saves money to the public treasury is not real economy if the expenditure of the money saved could have saved money to the country at large in the way of increasing travel facilities, of protecting the public domain from trespass, or should prove a saving grace in other matters.

Thought for the Day.

Woman's Death Is A Mystery

Lulu Ricketts Bevard Kepner

Mrs. Bevard Kepner of Fredrick, Md., was found shot to death in her home last April. A justice of the peace, in accordance with the Maryland law, signed a death certificate declaring she was a suicide. Little was heard of the case until her brother and sister started an investigation, which resulted in the body being exhumed and an inquest held. A Miss Lulu Ricketts created a sensation when she declared in court that Bevard Kepner, the dead woman's husband, had frequently proposed that she run away from home with him, while his wife was still alive.

50 Chickens Perish As Big Barn Burns

Passing motorists and the East Palestine fire department helped to keep the fire from the house. The loss is estimated at about $3,000, the barn was insured.

Jealous British Fail To Cheer As Leviathan Sails

Southampton, England, July 18.—The British merchant marine, for many years supreme upon the high seas, is fighting with its back to the wall and there were no loud and prolonged cheers from British throats when the giant American liner, Leviathan, sailed for New York Tuesday.

This mighty American steamship is completing the final lapse of her maiden voyage under the Stars and Stripes. The Leviathan was officially dry, carrying only one gallon of brandy for medicinal purposes. However, some of the passengers took their own supply of drink, one personally supervising the embarkation of 36 quarts of whisky.

Sailing of the Leviathan marked another step forward in the international trans-Atlantic war which threatens British supremacy in the ocean passenger transportation.

Both American and German steamship lines are making serious inroads into the British passenger and freight business. Never in history has the red ensign of the British mercantile fleet been under such heavy attack. It is within the range of possibilities that rate cutting may result from the bitter competition which is growing up.

Promoting the General Welfare

1.—Let railroad rates and railroad laws alone for the present. Give the railroads a chance to get on their feet financially before further tightening up on their earnings. Give the Transportation Act of 1920 a more adequate test before determining what revisions—if any—it requires.

2.—Get solidly back of the railroads in carrying out their adequate transportation program of 1923—recognizing the fact that the continued prosperity of the country is dependent upon the successful carrying out of that program.

3.—Give every possible encouragement to the loyal and earnest working forces of the railroads so that they may cooperate in the best and most enthusiastic spirit with the management.

The agricultural, industrial and commercial interests of the country in promoting the general welfare have been invited to take an active part in making this platform effective. With the support of the public it is confidently believed that our railroads, their managers and employees, will be able splendidly and efficiently to perform the vitally important task which has been set for them to do.

ONLY OHIO WOMEN CAN COMPETE

Examination for Matron of Girls'
School to Be Held Soon.

MRS. STANNARD LOSES APPEAL

Her Removal Technically Sustained by Split Decision of State Civil Service Commission—More County and City Officials Warned by Gov.
Donahy—Volunteer Dry Officers Dropped—State Affairs.

Columbus, July 18.—Welfare Director John E. Harper announced that an examination to fill the vacancy caused by the removal of Mrs. Mae E. Stannard as chief matron of the Girls' Industrial school would be held at once and that an Ohio woman would be given the position. He said he would request the state civil service commission to call an examination for the position of chief matron at the earliest possible date, and added that he would make two requirements in his request. One of these will be that only Ohio women can compete for the position, and another that all candidates must be married women. He added that Miss Mattie E. Pangborn would be retained at the school in temporary charge, but that a permanent appointee will be named just as soon as an eligible list can be certified. Miss Pangborn will not be qualified to compete for the permanent appointment, being single.

Mrs. Stannard's removal was technically sustained by the state civil service commission when Commissioners Rollin Swisher and William S. Bundy split on their decision. The law provides that when the commission disagrees in an appeal, the appellant loses. It was announced that Swisher voted to affirm the removal order and that Bundy disagreed.

Alfred Bettman of Cincinnati, attorney for Mrs. Stannard, said he was not sure of the legal effect of the split decision. If the case is carried up to the Ohio supreme court there is a slight chance that the court might rule that a split decision is "no decision" in a case of this sort, although in a previous case of a similar nature an appeal was denied.

When informed of the decision Mrs. Stannard declared: "Knowing the situation as I do, I am not surprised at the verdict. But anyone who followed the hearing knows that it was a complete vindication for me. The attorney general and the women of Ohio already had vindicated me."

Mrs. Stannard said she intended to remain in Ohio. She said she has received three offers to become the head of correctional institutions.

Mrs. Stannard was removed by Harper under charges of incompetency, inefficiency and extravagance. These charges were threshed out at a hearing before the civil service commission.

Six mayors and four sheriffs have been informed by Governor Donahy of gambling in their respective territories, and all were ordered to make immediate reports to the governor as to what they were doing or intended to do to suppress the evil. W. V. Coons, mayor of Chaucery, Athens county, was told that unless he put a stop to baseball pools in his town he would face serious and quick action from the chief executive. Sheriff Hob Ewing, Wapakoneta, Auglaize county, was told that many gambling devices were being operated in his bailiwick. Mayors P. A. Koppe of Logan, Samuel Orr of Newark, Thomas B. Alexander of Put-in-Bay, Leslie Wyckoff of Chagrin Falls and P. W. Bridges of Haskins, Wood county, were told that the governor had received reports from reliable persons that gambling devices were not being prohibited in their respective towns. These mayors were ordered to make immediate reports to the governor as to what they were doing or intended to do to suppress the evil.

Sheriff Fred H. Vogelmeier of Licking county, Charles M. Moore of Noble county and W. W. Scheidegger of Wyandot county also were informed of reports which had been made against gambling in their respective counties. They were ordered to clean up and report progress to the governor.

In each case the governor called attention to his proclamation against gambling issued several weeks ago.

Commissions of 24 volunteer prohibition enforcement officers have been revoked by State Prohibition Commissioner B. F. McDonald as a result of the order issued by Governor Donahy some weeks ago requiring these officers to give bond in the same manner and amount as is required of regularly appointed officers. The bond is necessary in order to indemnify persons arrested for prohibition violations without good cause and for destruction of property in raids. Unless bonded the enforcement agents could not be held financially responsible for the acts.

The prohibition department adopted a policy more than two years ago under which sympathizers with the prohibition laws who volunteered

Small trucks with flanged wheels on which loaded wagons can be mounted for hauling behind street cars are a German idea.

These services could be given commissions. No salaries were paid these extra men, but it is charged that some of them obtained substantial remuneration in the form of costs collected from alleged violators arrested by them. Some were paid salaries by dry organizations which recommended them for the jobs. Some 70 such volunteer officers were on the job when Commissioner McDonald took charge in January.

The remarkable increase in the assets of Ohio building and loan associations, as shown by the report of State Superintendent J. W. Tannehill, is declared by James A. Devine, secretary of the Ohio Building Association league, to have been due mainly to a program of newspaper advertising which was started by Ohio building and loan associations two years ago. At that time, according to Mr. Devine, only 5 per cent of the building and loan associations were using newspaper advertising, but now more than 80 per cent of the building and loan associations in Ohio are telling the building and loan story to the people of the Buckeye State through newspapers. These institutions, according to Mr. Devine, spent nearly a half million dollars last year with Ohio newspapers and he predicted that within the next 12 months nearly twice as much would be spent in telling the people of Ohio of the work being done by building and loan associations.

The gain in assets made by Ohio building and loan associations during the last fiscal year, $86,218,000, was the greatest in the history of the Ohio institutions and the total amount was larger than the gains made by the building and loan associations of any other state in the United States.

Ohio headquarters of the organization against prohibition will be moved shortly from Toledo to Columbus, according to G. C. Hinckley, secretary and general manager of the organization, who says real work will begin at the capital to turn the 189,000 dry vote registered last year into a substantial wet majority if possible. Colonel Hayden Eams of Cleveland is to be placed in charge of the Columbus headquarters, and from his work Hinckley says he expects pronounced results. Hinckley, who is a very sanguine individual, says his organization already has a very substantial membership in this state and they have set their goal for this year's work at an increase of over two hundred per cent. It is to be carried forward by congressional districts, all to be worked in, but a view to be had of trying to throw the districts into the wet column in the next congressional election. He points out what a fine slogan it would be if his organization should be able to announce tremendous inroads made on the dry cause right in the home state of the Anti-Saloon League.

The dry leaders seem to be amused rather than scared by Colonel Hinckley's claims. They point out that the same thing has been tried here in Ohio by wet leaders better informed as to the ground than Hinckley is, and just as able, and they have been making the same kind of predictions as to the results of their labors in every campaign in which there has been a wet and dry issue—and the invariable rule has been that since Ohio went dry she has been getting drier, not by small increases in her dry vote but by large figures.

John E. McCrehen, president of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards, comments on the statement of City Auditor Otto of Columbus attacking the referendum on the Taft and A.baugh bills, as follows:

"City Auditor Otto, like many others discussing taxation, thinks only of the present, and this is why municipalities find themselves facing financial difficulties. The procedure has been to provide for the immediate needs in any way possible without taking into consideration the future effect. The longer we continue to do this the worse our condition will become."

The Eighty-fifth general assembly ignored every constructive suggestion made in regard to taxation and substituted itself with passing another "make-shift" for the temporary relief of schools and cities. Mr. McCrehen declared. He believes that the present law will only add to future difficulties of the same character which it seeks to relieve.

"Coupled with the Taft bill is the A.baugh bill, which, just at a time when economy in public affairs is so necessary, establishes a new department of government which, it is estimated, will cost the taxpayers an additional million dollars annually to operate," declared McCrehen. "We made it plain to members of the assembly that unless something constructive accompanied the temporary relief, these measures would be subjected to a referendum. We pledged this to the taxpayers of Ohio and are only discharging our obligation in submitting them."

Mr. McCrehen declared that the realtors of Ohio are just as much interested in the state taxation program and the municipalities and schools as any other element of citizenship. The real estate men believe it to be a mistake to continue longer under a system which is only multiplying obstacles. "We will continue to oppose all the makeshift legislation until Ohio is given a system commensurate with present needs."

Columbiana Mayor Reports

Columbiana, July 18.—Mayor Koch states that the first theft was reported to him on Sunday touching parked automobile in Columbiana since he came into office two years ago.

Saturday evening Lester Doren parked his car on Union st. just off Main and when he went to get his car two hours later some one had stolen a new tire and rim. Another reported a theft of auto tools, making a complete clean up of all the car possessed.

On Saturday evening cars are so numerous that they completely fill the Main st on both sides and side streets leading from the square to Railroad st south. Should persons be so mean as to pilfer they have ample opportunity to ply their mischief.

How to build up your Weight

To be under weight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus health, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus.

That's why S.S.S., since 1826, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S.S.S. will build them.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

TELLTALE SYMPTOMS OF WOMAN'S ILLS

Every woman who suffers from headache, dizziness, dragging-down pains, nervousness, irregularities, displacements, irritability, or despondency should recognize in such symptoms some derangement of her system which should have attention before some more serious ailment develops. These conditions are often evidenced by a sallow complexion, dark circles under the eyes, lassitude and sleeplessness. For nearly fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been pre-eminent successful in overcoming such conditions and it is now recognized everywhere as the standard remedy for women's ills.

KNOX TWP. DENIED MORE COUNTY AID TO IMPROVE ROAD

No Money Is Available For Work; Other Activities In Road Problems.

Lisbon, July 18.—Following their meeting here Monday, the county commissioners moved into Knox township, to inspect roads for which its trustees yesterday requested aid.

Earlier in the day a delegation of which W. W. Stroup was spokesman, called upon the board and requested financial assistance in putting slag upon three miles of the North Georgetown rd. and resurfacing it.

"We've already done considerable for Knox township," the delegation was told, while Commissioner Patrick McNicol inquired what had become of the six cars of slag furnished by the county. He declared he had driven over the road and had failed to see where six carloads had been placed. The delegation did not know.

As a body the commissioners regretted their inability to do anything at present, but indicated that they would lend assistance when funds on hand warranted.

During the day a Salineville delegation called to protest the Tidball hollow site for the proposed Salineville rd. "We're in no hurry to build the road along any route just now," they said, "but if it should be let, we want to ask a re-hearing, as we prefer the route through Highlandtown."

It will cost approximately $2,000 to oil the "roller coaster" detour, the commissioners were told by the county engineer, who had last week been instructed to make an estimate and to aid the auditor in advertising for bids. This is at the rate of 5½ cents a square yard.

Commissioner McNicol said he favored spending the money in widening the detour and making better ditches.

Submits Paving Estimates

Frank Swaney of East Liverpool, representing a patented paving material company, submitted estimates for paving the New Waterford-East Palestine rd., computed for three different kinds of paving. One would cost $42,735.23, another $37,311.90 and the third $30,960.53. The county engineer's estimate on the job for waterbound macadam with bituminous top was $29,000. The board instructed that bids be asked from other contractors on the same specifications.

Following complaint that certain stretches of the Negley-Achor rd., past Brown's farm near East Liverpool, are virtually impassable, the commissioners instructed the county engineer to put a force of men at work making ditches to afford better drainage.

Although given $2,000 by the commissioners at their last meeting, trustees of Elkton township reported that they would need another $1,200 to fill the approaches to the Elkton-Clarkson bridge. The township has $5,000, which with the amount given by the county totaled $7,000 available. The commissioners declined to take action, merely suggesting that the township borrow the rest of the money if it wanted the work done.

TROOP 7 HOLDING LEAD, CHASED BY TROOP 1 SCOUTS

Three more events in the city Boy Scout field meet were run off at Reilly field last night with Troop 7 maintaining its lead but closely pressed by Troop 1.

Scoutmaster Lowell's lads now have 26 points to their credit, while Scoutmaster's Coles' county champions stand second with 19. Thirteen points put Troop 3 in third place, while Troop 4 in the absence of Scoutmaster Harman dropped out of the competition last night and have only the five points won by Ralph Kircher in the knot-tying event when the meet started July 12.

At the request of Scoutmasters Coles and Lowell Commissioner Chamberlain settled the disputed points in the scout pace, by granting first place to Robert Davis of Troop 3, second to Negrette of Troop 7 and third to Jim Gregg of Troop 1. Gregg now holds individual honors with nine points, while Kenneth Kelley of Troop 7 is one point behind him. The former copped the broad jump with Kelley second and Beck of Troop 3 third.

Troop 3 pulled the surprise of the second stanza when Shears and Sidinger pitched a pup tent in 2 minutes and 48 seconds, two seconds ahead of O. Huffman and S. McCullough, the county champions of Troop 7. Third place was won by Clarence Davidson and George McCullough of Troop 1.

BARNEY GOOGLE

BY DeBECK

Franklin Davidson and Bill Floyd of Troop 7, Jim Grafton and Myron Baker of Troop 1 and William Baker and Wilfred McArthur of Troop 1 finished in the order named.

Troop 1 retained first honors in semaphor signaling with a quartet composed of Joseph Chamberlain, William Baker, Jim Grafton and Wilfred McArthur. Troop 7 took second and third honors with William Floyd, Frank Davidson, Raymond Coburn and John Negroiter, and John Huffman, Starling McCullough, Orville Huffman and George McCullough.

Troop seven's third signaling quartet composed of Lowell Brown, Kenneth Kelley, Clarence Davidson and William Alman failed to place. None of the signaling teams were the same as used in the county meet as Troop 7 had shifted its signaller in order to make fairer competition with Troop 1 which was handicapped by the loss of its best signaller.

The scouts will compete again Thursday evening at Reilly field. Fire lighting and water boiling, the first aid rescue race and the half mile relay race will provide the excitement. A good gallery of parents and friends were present to urge the scouts to their best efforts.

The meet is open to the public and offers an excellent opportunity for laymen to see what scouting teaches the youngsters. Deputy Commissioner Frederick Kenrich is officiating as chief judge assisted by local scout officials.
